FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Scrum Alliance® Approves Nisum as a Registered Education Provider Offering Agile & DevOps Courses

San Francisco, CA - October 25, 2018

Nisum, a global business+technology consulting firm, is now a Registered Education Provider (REP) for Scrum Alliance®, the largest, most established and influential professional membership organization and certifying body in the Agile community, and is launching its first Agile & DevOps course with an earning credit of 16 SEU® (Scrum Education Units®).

"We are very excited about our new relationship and eagerly looking forward to servicing the Scrum Alliance members and our Agile community. Our practicing DevOps engineers and professional trainers have developed this 2-day course with lab exercises simulating an enterprise scale real life DevOps environment. Software developers, engineers, project managers, quality assurance specialists, and test managers will all benefit from the topics detailed during this event. Participants get both one-on-one interaction with instructors and opportunities to network with other software professionals," said Nisum's Senior Director, Shami Ahuja.

Shannon Carter, Scrum Alliance's Vice President of Education, said, "At Scrum Alliance, we value each and every REP and spend time carefully reviewing each and every application. We realize it is not easy to become a REP. Nisum had to demonstrate excellence in courseware and trainers to be accepted and we know that takes time and dedication. Now that they are accepted, we wish them continued success and will work to support them as part of our Scrum Alliance community."
